Dear Community of Support:

I am pleased to announce that I have completed the book: The Criminals Search for God: Criminal Transformation, Catholic Social Teaching, Deep Knowledge Leadership & Communal Reentry which will form the basis of the future work of LampStand.

The publication of this book concludes the initial process of research, writing, and editing of the ideas and practices I have learned from my personal, professional, and academic work; and begins the long range strategy to make the ideas and the practice flowing from that experience congruent and accessible to grassroots leadership working to transform criminals.

You can receive the book as a gift by becoming a LampStand member and I have enclosed a membership form, and attached the first thirteen pages of the book.

This is the first publication in a series which will focus on creating and developing the tools deep knowledge leaders need to transform criminals.

I look forward to working with you as we move into this new phase of our apostolate work.

Take care.

Sincerely,
David H. Lukenbill

“One of the first examples in the America’s of the [Catholic] social teaching in action was the 1537 papal command that “the Indians living in Spanish colonies were guaranteed equal rights as fellow communicants in the Catholic Church.”
